TIN FISH of Boca Raton is a brand-new restaurant located on the expanding west side of Boca. A concept created by Owner/Chef Joseph Melluso, Tin Fish was created almost 30 years ago in San Diego, California. Since its inception, Tin Fish has worked its way across our great country and has now made a home in South Florida with locations in Sunrise, Okeechobee and now it's newest location in West Boca Raton.

Tin Fish of Boca Raton is located at 9101 Lakeridge Blvd. and opened its doors in March of 2024 and has is becoming a staple in the Boca Raton community. Partnering with Alan & Tracy Newmark, Chef Melluso has quickly brought the vibe of other Tin Fish restaurants to Boca Raton. This location features a unique combination of classic white tablecloth service in the dining room side and a beautiful bar room with a more casual vibe on the other side.

Tin Fish of Boca Raton is open every day at 11am, closed on Mondays. Lunch is served daily from 11am-3pm with a full lunch menu that features a $14 lunch special every day. The Dinner Menu is served daily at 3pm. The menu features fresh fish (which is served whole or fileted), seafood towers, a full sushi menu, steaks & chops, whole lobsters and a raw bar that boasts a variety of oysters & clams, as well as other fresh fish that are brought in for specials. These are all featured in the dining and bar rooms everyday.

The bar room which is primarily manned by Tin Fish's bar masters, Dino & Hayrettin, features specialtycrafted cocktails, house-infused creations and Boca Raton's best Happy Hour which spans from 3pm-6pm everyday. Either room also features a nice layout if you'd like to celebrate a large party or a special event.

Originally from Brooklyn, New York, Chef Melluso started his journey with Tin Fish in 1997 but has been an astute cog in the fish industry since 1969, where he started his training on Islip Avenue in Long Island, New York. During the timeframe of 1972-1983 Melluso spent two to five days a week from 2am-6am in the Fulton Fish Market in Manhattan shopping for the freshest jewels available to bring back to Long Island to the various markets of which he was privileged to learn from. Joseph worked for some of the best fish mongers throughout New York operating lobster boats and lobstering in the Long Island Sound out of Cranes Neck Northport, then Brown's Fish Market in Port Jefferson, to B & B Fish Market in Lindenhurst and time opening six Two Cousin's Fish Markets in upstate NY. Chef's tenure at the Hewlett Fish Market in the Five Towns of Long Island was the most impactful experience in his prestigious career. Known for quality seafood, oven ready entrees and appetizers, along with their infamous Halibut Salad and Hewlett Cole Slaw, Melluso became a powerful force behind the evolution of the Hewlett Fish Market's success. He work endless hours cleaning and setting up showcase displays, cooking and perfecting the art of fileting fish and providing one-on-one, long term relationships with his Five Towns clientele.

Chef then went on his own to open the Seafood Terrace in Oceanside on Merrick Road and started his culinary training to become the Chef that he has developed into today. Studying with Libby Hillman of Great Neck, having extended studies in pastry at the Von Trope Mansion in Stow, Vermont and later was introduced and studied with Giuliano Bugialli, Eli and Abby Zabar, of Zabar's in Manhattan they were integral parts of his evolution. Saul Zabar taught Chef Melluso the art of appetizing, working with all types of smoked fish to help accommodate all his catering of Bar & Bat Mitzvahs, weddings and private dinner parties. After learnings from Giuliano Bugialli, Melluso started his dream shop, Joseph's of Oceanside in 1979. Joel Dean & Georgio Deluca took a liking to Chef and introduced him to all types of importers from around the world, having access to the best of the best. Since then, Chef Melluso has personally been at the helm of opening 58 locations for himself or as a consultant throughout the country. Joseph's passion runs deep for what he does and loves and has been quoted by the New York Times as "having Fish Blood in his veins". Chef is happiest when he has a filet knife in his hands and fish on the cutting board, he is truly a master at his craft.

Chef Melluso always says, "we are only as good as our team" and "we want our customers to get to know us and what we do!"

So come on in and let us...

"LET US COOK FOR YOU!"
